| PLO | 2018-2019 | 2019-2020 | 2020-2021 | 2021-2022 | 2022-2023 |
|--|--|-----------|-----------|-----------|-----------|
| 1. Articulate key threats to the global environment, the scientific basis of the understanding of those threats, their underlying causes and implications for society; | ENVT 447 (Climate, Energy, and Society) and/or ENVT 445 (Water and Watershed Management) | | | | |

2. Articulate and apply key concepts to critical environmental problems including ecological limits, threshold effects, tragedy of the commons, and the interconnectedness and humans and natural systems.

ENVT 310 (Literature and Research ENVT

ENVT 447 (Energy, Climate, and Society)

| 4. Describe and evaluate social justice and equity issues in the context of sustainable development; | | ENVT 330 (Environmental Sustainability and Social Justice) And/or ENVT 465 Sustainable Development and Communities | |
|---|--|--|---|
| 5. Identify, describe and assess the environmental and associated equity and justice implications of human actions including one's own; | | ENVT 465 Sustainable Development and Communities | |
| 6. Apply quantitative and qualitative approaches to identify, analyze, and assess environmental problems. | | | ENVT 499 Environmental Projects And/or ENVT 320 (Environmental Resource Management) |